

Pay as you Go iPhone 12-month free internet and Wi-Fi offer

If you're connecting or upgrading to a pay as you go iPhone on Orange, you get 12 months' free mobile internet and Wi-Fi. A text will be sent to confirm when the free mobile internet and Wi-Fi offers have been applied (these messages may take up to 24 hours). A text will also be sent when the offers are due to expire. If you leave Orange or transfer to pay monthly you can't take this offer with you. The free mobile internet offer only applies in the UK and is capped at 250MB per month, after which standard pay as you go data charges apply. The 250MB internet can only be used when customers have a positive credit balance. You can monitor how much free data you are using by calling 343. Please be aware iPhones have open internet access, but there are parental controls on the device should you wish to restrict adult content. The free Wi-Fi offer gives you unlimited Wi-Fi at BT openzone hotspots in the UK (to find a hotspot, check out www.btopenzone.co.uk). The offer is also subject to a fair usage limit of 750MB each month. If you go over this limit, we (Orange) may monitor your usage and withdraw the offer from your account. But 750MB is an awful lot to play with. So hopefully it won't come to that.
